

Join the National Park Service for the commemoration of the 153rd ANNIVERSARY of the BATTLE of FORT STEVENS on Saturday, July 8, 2017

10:00 am – 12noon (Commemorative Program)
12:30 p.m. – 4:00 p.m. (Commemorative Activities)

Come learn more about the only Civil War battle to take place in the nation's capital in the summer of July 1864 through Civil War re-enactors, living history demonstrations, live period music, historic talks and walks, book signings as well as 19th century children's games and crafts.

Location: On the historic grounds of Fort Stevens located within the unit block of Quackenbos Street, N.W. (also known as Elizabeth Thomas Way) between 13th Street and Georgia Avenue, N.W Washington, DC 20012

Sponsored by the National Park Service with the support of the Alliance to Preserve
the Civil War Defenses of Washington.
